

< Back to Quick Mini Topics

The Ten Commandments in America (Deciphered from stone writings in Paleo-Hebrew nearly 2100 years ago)

The “Inscription Rock” at Hidden Mountain, Los Lunas, New Mexico

This ancient artifact of a large rock carved with Hebrew letters was first correctly translated by Harvard University Semitic Language professor Dr. Robert Pfeiffer in July of 1948, as being a precise copy of the Ten Commandments written in a form of very early Hebrew known as Paleo-Hebrew. The red arrow (inserted into the picture) shows the four letters for the name of God in Hebrew, that is, Yod Hay Vauv Hay, spelling Yahweh which means The Everliving.

The rock carving is dated at 107 BC by confirmation of another nearby rock carved with a star chart correctly showing the constellations for that year from a solar eclipse in the constellation Virgo, an event not repeated in a thousand years.

Not only did European Saxon Israelites make their way to the Americas in the Colonial days of the USA (their new home), but our family kin of Hebrews more than 2000 years ago were already visiting North America and leaving traceable signs of their visits in many areas. This “Ten Commandment Rock” is one of the more notable. Why haven't the Churches told us about our real American Biblical heritage? God said that He would move Israel out of “Old Jerusalem” and give them a new land. “Moreover I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and move no more; neither shall the children of wickedness afflict them any more, as before-time. (II Samuel 7:10, the last phrase is to yet be fulfilled, but shall be by Christ, Rev.1:7;19:15)

“Fully 25% of the world's Hebrew stone inscriptions have been found in the America's – this is no dearth, it is an abundance.” (Discovery of Ancient America, D.A.Deal, 1984, pg. 58.) This is quite an astounding statement considering that most “searches” for Hebrew inscriptions are focused on the middle east. That percentage is realistically much higher and offers more proof that God was using our ancient ancestors long ago to scout out and begin preparing Israel's new western home for the regathering of the Tribes of Israel in their prophetic Mt. Zion nation of Isaiah chapter 18.