Part Three The Racial Family Trust Instrument for the USA (The Preamble and The Constitution)

By Kenneth W. Lent ezra98.yolasite.com Oct.3, 2015

A special thanks to Burness Speakman for sharing with me her keen take on our national Family Trust as per her treatise "Our Legacy Denounced"

“Trust: a right in property held by one person, called the trustee, for the benefit of another, called the beneficiary, or cestui que trust.”
(Cochran’s Law Lexicon, 5th ed. 1888 – 1973, p.290)

“Res: a thing or things”
(Cochran’s Law Lexicon, 5th ed. 1888 – 1973, p.259)

Here’s how we have been taught to view the Constitution

Article I --

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors

Here’s the original intent and lawful view of the Constitution

“We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.”

Let's get a solid grasp on the fact of law that the whole scope of the Constitution falls under the purview of the Preamble! First we have to understand what the Preamble is. It's a Trust Document, the nature of which will be made clear by the end of this essay. Second, we have to understand that everything that follows in the body of the Constitution (the powers, the stipulations, the oaths, the limitations, the duty of Congress, etc.) was established to be in alignment with the foundational intent of the Preamble.

"Its (Preamble's) true office," wrote early American Supreme Court Justice Joseph Story in his Commentaries 1833, "is to expound the nature and extent and application of the powers actually conferred by the Constitution, and not substantively to create them."

(J. Story, Commentaries on the Constitution of the United States (Boston: 1833), 462.)

Definition: "A preamble is an introductory statement, a preliminary explanation. The term is particularly applied to the opening paragraph of a statute which summarizes the intention of the legislature in passing the measure."

<http://definitions.uslegal.com/p/preamble/>

In other words, the Preamble does not list or create the powers given to the servant of "We the people", that being the federal government under the Constitution; but rather it first explains the nature of any powers later to be listed in that document. Then, once that nature was properly understood, the Framers could sit down and create the specific and limited powers of the "servant" in the main body of the Constitution. Therefore – just what is the nature and intent of the Constitution? We must look to the Preamble to expand and clarify it. Bottom line ---- understand the Preamble and we will understand the purpose and scope of the entire original Constitution.

What "nature" was it that our Founding Fathers considered to be inherent in the Preamble that we have totally forgotten? It was the law of their ancestors who had passed down to them certain guarantees of their rights of inheritance that went back to their families in the days of Magna Charta. This too was testified of by the early United States Supreme Court:

"We are bound to interpret the Constitution in the light of the law as it existed at the time it was adopted, not as reaching out for new guaranties of the rights of the citizen, but as securing to every individual such (rights) as he already possessed as a British subject -- such as his ancestors had inherited and defended since the days of Magna Charta." Mattox v. United States 156 U.S. 237, 243 (1895)

We today are the beneficiaries (Posterity) of the Trust, and the "thing" (the Res) being passed down is "The Blessings of Liberty", which include all the rights to the land as well as all other inherited natural rights. The Trustees are the officials listed within the Articles who were given power to, and expected to maintain the Trust and its purpose. Sadly, just as the pulpit ministers have failed in their job to teach God's Laws, the Trustees (officers of Congress, the Executive, and the Courts) have failed to uphold and maintain the Biblical Trust. They have not guarded it for future generations. In this, the Trustees have acted in a negligent if not criminal manner.

The people as well have been given the liberty and opportunity in the Commonwealth government for every household in America to be living by God's Laws. But the people (like the ministers, and the Inheritance Trustees) have also not done what they are supposed to do, for Jesus said: "If you love me keep my commandments" (John 14:15). When a future generation returns to the true Commonwealth to enforce all of God's Laws, then we will have good government and its fruits once again.

But the fault is not with the Founding Fathers or the original Constitution and never was. They had it correct. The fault lies with the people themselves who have lost their vision. The Constitution was decreed by the Christian Common Law of its time, and the Common Law arises from its Commonwealth roots mentioned by Paul the Apostle in the book of Ephesians 2: 12 & 20. True American Constitutionalism is true Biblical Commonwealth government in action, and it is the New Testament vehicle ordained by God to enforce His unchanging Laws in this the latter days. There is not one stipulation in the original Constitution that prevents anybody from obeying the Laws of God for their family and their communities, nation wide. That duty is up to the people.

Our early American ancestors realized that all of what transpired and brought them to America from Europe was by the hand of “Divine Providence” (see the Declaration of Independence), and that God Almighty was the Master Controller of history down through the ages. We have also seen in our Part One that the Greek numerical value of the word “Christ” (in Mat.26:68) is 1215 which happens to be the year that Magna Charta was signed by our Saxon ancestors, and that Christ’s latter day Kingdom is numbered as 1776.

Furthermore the numerical value of the “set time” chosen by Yahweh to have His children declare their “favoring the dust (soil)” of their inheritance Zion (Eden, USA) is 1787 according to Psalm 102:14, which is the year that the Preamble and its subsequent Constitutional provisions came into being. How much of this did the Founding Fathers tie in with their reason for the War of Independence against Britain? And how much did they know about the “seed line” inheritance of God Given Rights that was genetically passed down from Adam to Abraham to the tribes of Israel to European Saxondom? They knew quite a lot --- but we were never schooled in any of this background of our national heritage, as for those of us today to realize these things would be “politically incorrect” and even “forbidden”.

Maturely discussing a somewhat taboo subject

Certain things need to be discussed maturely at this point, for to ignore them would bring us right back to the problem of censoring truth. The genetics of who we Saxons are was so much of the importance of American Christian liberty that a symbol of the divinely given procreation of our race was deemed necessary to include in the annals of our nation’s birth.

Do you see the picture below? It is a picture of the front cover of the “Journal of the Proceedings of the Congress held in Philadelphia on September 5, 1774:”

Now we are going to enlarge the emblem on the cover to see what it is. Please do not misinterpret this to be lewd or inappropriate but rather it denotes the genetic racial aspect of the Saxon family of people who then (unlike Church Christians today) honored and protected their bloodline heritage. The symbol is both Saxon and Abrahamic with Biblical roots.

What is the above illustration? It is what the 1776 war was fought over but we were never told! It is the First Seal of Congress showing a male pillar of Saxon Freeman held by twelve hands, and standing upon the scroll of Magna Charta (signed 1215AD, the letter number of 'Christ', in history), with its underlying foundation shown to be a book (the Christian Bible of the English Church). This seal was in no way an attempt at some pornographic depiction or we would be looking at a naked person or persons instead, which the Founders did not draw here. It was the genetic seal in protection of their future lawful posterity (us) under which specific seal the patriots planned their break from the tyranny of England (which had by then succumbed to the banking house of the European goldsmiths, who were not of Saxon posterity.) On the outer edge of the Seal we have the Latin words "On This We Rely", "This We Defend".

The men who designed the Seal and who attended Congress were devout Christians who were pillars of the Faith, so this is not some lewd drawing for strange motives. Recall the early US Supreme Court case quoted on the page 3:

"rights --- such as his ancestors had inherited and defended since the days of Magna Charta." Mattox v. United States 156 U.S. 237, 243 (1895)

Magna Charta itself ascribes these inherited rights as encompassing "those of our ancestors and heirs (and) -- our heirs in perpetuity". (Past and future rights) Those past "Ancestors" would include Christ's early Disciples, the Old Testament Israelites, and even all the way back to Adam. The "heirs in perpetuity" would include later white Christian Englishmen and Americans. Since the aforementioned "Magna Charta ancestors" had these rights too, wherever those ancestors (the Israelites) settled, those same rights would as well apply – not only in England. The rights are by our genetic Nature, and the Nature is Adamic. This first seal of Congress has a male "pillar", 12 supportive hands, a Bible, a noted liberty divine date, and these proceed forth from clouds. "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us". (Hebrews 12:1)

The American patriots knew full well what they were fighting about because this Congressional seal is deeply Scriptural in many ways:

We can see in the seal that the hands are all "right hands": "And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me (Paul), they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the nations, and they unto the circumcision.” (Galatians 2:9)

The “right hand to right hand friendship grasp” between Saxons (sons of Isaac) was viewed by the Apostles as a friendship and fellowship hold of allegiance between strong men who were called “pillars”.

If you have not been offended by our nation’s First Congressional Seal, perhaps we can now go even deeper into the Scriptural bloodline importance of that Seal

In the ancient world, where an “oath grasp” for more serious racial preservation matters was concerned (and because of the extreme importance of God’s covenant with Abraham by circumcision) it was the placing of a hand near that “manhood” over the outer garment which would thus seal the oath. This was a rare act, but we do see it mentioned in Scripture.

It was Biblically the duty of men to uphold the structure of the offspring family of Adam, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all posterity of Israel not only in faith, but in faith and race. In this, our War for Independence was not only about common liberty. Our Founding Fathers knew our heritage. It was about genetics going all the way back to Eden in the Book of Genesis. In fact, the Book of Genesis, is just that, “genesis” or about “genes” and the inherant makeup which is DNA programmed into the different people and different creatures on the planet. In truth, the Holy Book is all quite scientific and genetic within its teachings about government and the Kingdom of Jesus Christ.

This first Seal of Congress is about our rights that we have inherited from the procreation seed of our Christian Adamic Saxon ancestors who also knew in the days of Magna Charta that they too had inherited them from yet previous generations of their kin. So valuable was the knowledge of rights belonging to a family, that in fact this symbol goes all the way back to Abraham (and further) as we see in the Bible.

It was Abraham’s grandson, Jacob, who became heir to the seed line that produced 12 sons and the tribes of Israel. We also know that the early American patriots were very much “Israelite aware” because Benjamin Franklin eventually designed a proposal for a later Seal of the United States of America as shown below:

The so called and misnamed "least religious" of the Founders himself (Franklin) described the Seal as "Moses standing on the Shore, and extending his Hand over the Sea, thereby causing the same to overwhelm Pharaoh who is sitting in an open Chariot, a Crown on his Head and a Sword in his Hand. Rays from a Pillar of Fire in the Clouds reaching to Moses, to express that he acts by Command of the Deity." [By the way, this should explain beyond doubt who Franklin's "Deity" was. He was the God of our Holy Bible.] The Motto reads "Rebellion to Tyrants is Obedience to God."

(Above source: The History of the United States Seal, p.10- Gaillard Hunt, pub. Dept.of State, 1909)

But what is the further underlying truth of the meaning of the depiction of "12 hands on the liberty manhood", the banner of our First Congress? And what of the fact that it goes back to the rights mentioned in Magna Charta? and that Magna Charta says it goes back to the past ancestors even long before that year of 1215 AD? The Scriptures and history record that these fundamental Saxon rights can be traced to our father Abraham whom we read about in our Bible.

In Genesis chapter 24 we read that Abraham, who was given his land of Canaan as a Freehold possession from God Almighty, had become old and was concerned about who his son Isaac would marry, in that any resulting offspring would possess the inheritance. As the story unfolds we see that Abraham wanted his eldest servant to promise that only a woman of the kindred stock of the same race as Abraham would do as his daughter-in-law.

Gen. 24:2 “*And Abraham said unto his eldest servant of his house, that ruled over all that he had, Put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh:

*3 And I will make thee swear by Yahweh, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell:

4 But thou shalt go unto my country, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son Isaac.”

7 “Yahweh God of heaven, which took me from my father's house, and from the land of my kindred, and which spake unto me, and that sware unto me, saying, Unto THY SEED will I give this land; he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence.”

9 “And the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him concerning that matter.” [The story continues with Rebekah becoming Isaac’s wife and was welcomed into the family. V. 67]

As you may have already guessed, the nominal “thigh” doesn’t have anything to do with producing “seed” or passing a Freehold Land Inheritance down to subsequent offspring generations (genes). The Hebrew word for “thigh” in the above specific verses is “YAW-RAKE” and is listed in Strong’s Concordance at #3409, defined as “to be soft, the thigh--- by euphemism the generative parts” This word is also used in Ex.25:31; 37:17, Num.8:4 as “SHAFT”. It’s more than evident what kind of “shaft” it was that pertained to his seed line, which Abraham ordered his servant to put his hand under, in swearing to obtain a proper wife for Isaac, Abraham’s son. (Obviously, just a hand placement upon the robed outer garment).

The depiction of the Saxon Magna Charta right hands on the “pillar” is a graphic Scriptural symbol of the Saxon (Isaac’s sons) right of inheritance by the Holy law of descent and distribution. That right was inherent in Adam, passed down to Abraham, to Isaac, to Israel, to dispersed Israel of Europe, to England, and to America. Abraham attested to the use of this oath sign, the Scriptures have seen fit to record the event as of utmost importance, and this amazingly became the seal of our First Congress. This is what the War For Independence was really all about. Inherited Saxon genetic rights. It is about family! Bible historians agree -- the special inheritance was to be kept within the same race, kin/kindred, and this solemn Abrahamic oath sign secured the pledge.

Dr. George Lamsa's Aramaic Peshitta Old Testament English translation of Gen.24:2,3 reads:

“And Abraham called his eldest servant, the steward of his house, who was in charge of everything that he had; and he said to him, Put your hand under my girdle; and I will make you swear by the LORD (YHVH), the God of Heaven and the God of Earth, that ye shall not take to my son a wife of the daughters of the Canaanites ---” (Men were then girded in that private body part with a loin cloth. Job 38:3; 40:7; Gen.35:11; 46:24)

Adam Clarke’s Commentary on the Bible shares this understanding as well. Adam Clarke (1760 –1832) was a Methodist Bible scholar born in Britain. Clarke’s commentary on the Bible which took him 40 years to complete was a major Christian reference tool for over two centuries. Concerning Genesis 14:22 Clarke’s Bible Commentary reference note makes the following observation:

- - (on) Verse 22. “I have lift up mine hand” (note) *The primitive mode of appealing to God, and calling him to witness a particular transaction; this no doubt generally obtained among the faithful till circumcision, the sign of the covenant, was established. After this, in swearing, the hand was often placed on the circumcised part; see chap. xxiv. 2, 9. (Adam Clarke’s Commentary on the Bible) emphasis added

Adam Clarke, as did other Bible scholars, knew about the historical and posterity significance of Genesis 24:2. Most English versions, however, have merely been too timid in translating the meaning correctly on the unfortunate grounds that it may be “too graphic”. Although intentions of the mistranslation may have been well meant, it has removed all pertinent aspects of “racial inheritance” from the covenant that Yahweh God made with Abraham. Of course, the mistranslation of “private parts” to that of “thigh” would be more politically correct if the conspirators of Mystery Babylon wished to hide any Saxon racial message of the Bible from the congregations of the various churches. The American Founding Fathers, however, DID realize the ancestral rights connected with their Christian Faith and were bold in both proclaiming it and depicting it.

If we may prayerfully proceed – there is yet more !

There is much more on this subject of certain oaths taken on the sacred circumcision area by our ancient ancestors, without those men viewing it as obscene, but we need not extend the topic endlessly here except for one notation that should be mentioned if anyone needs more convincing. As Christian believers we may be surprised to discover that our very word for “Testament” (used to describe the Holy Books of the Bible) comes from the same root word as “Testicles”, the area of racial oaths sworn to by our Israelite ancestors who placed a sacred value on the Adamic family seed line. The root for both these words mean “witness”. This customary form of genetic oath was known all the way up into the era of the Roman Empire and it was passed from the Hebrew Biblical origins into the Latin language. Here’s what an etymology (word origins) reference book has to say about our Christian word “Testament”. A reading of the definition is self explanatory.

[Origins: A Short Etymological Dictionary of Modern English. By Eric Partridge; London: Routledge and Kegan Paul, 1958. Pg 3425

Testament: “(Testament), testamental, testa-mentary, testamur, -- testator – testatrix – testicle, testicular, --- testify, testimonial – pl. testes – attest, attestation – etc. All these words originate in Latin “testis”, a witness”.]*

There should be no need to apologize for understanding these words. When we realize the seriousness of what is facing our folk and kin anybody with eyes of awareness opened these days, and who realize that a racial war is being conducted against the white race, will view this knowledge for what it is – survival. This is why the New Testament is only to racial Israel of the seed of Abraham as our Master Jesus Christ, testified: “I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the House of Israel” (Mat.15:24) This statement of Christ’s was but a genetic witness of what Yahweh had already stated in the Old Testament books: “And ye (Israel) shall be holy unto me: for I Yahweh am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.” (Leviticus 20:26) “He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Praise ye Yahweh.” (Psalm 147, 19,20)

The Colonial Americans were the Israelites, as shown in Ben Franklin’s Seal and many church sermons of that time. They were the distant sons of Jacob’s twelve sons. The Congressional First Seal shows twelve hands on the “divine right of the Freehold Land Inheritance”. America is the true land inheritance that Abraham and the other Patriarchs looked for but awaited in the future, the “heavenly country” of Hebrews 11:16. Today our land of inheritance is under severe attack by Christ’s enemies who view this inheritance as being a must for them to destroy.

Whether or not the American Colonists knew that America was Eden, home of their (our) first father Adam, is not known. Nevertheless it was all about the posterity and Freehold God Given Rights to the land as handed down as far back as they could recollect. The foretold year “set” to declare the Freehold Inheritance in the latter day Kingdom was to be 1787 as foretold in Scripture (Psalm 102: 13, 14; page 18 Part Two). This is the year of the Preamble of the United (E)states Constitution. The Preamble is a Trust Instrument, and written as such to keep passing down the Inheritance Rights of land and liberty to the next and subsequent generations of the posterity -- and to no other people. By Scripture law, Saxon law, and Constitutional law The Posterity is considered to be all who are descended from Adam. Every one of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution was a white Saxon Christian. They left a family Trust of true liberty to their posterity.

Here is what a consortium of law references tell us about what constitutes a Trust:

1. A Trust needs to have an able settlor (furnisher) and sufficient trustee.
(the person who is holding the property for the benefit of another)
2. A Trust must have a determined Res. A “res” is simply a “thing” being bequeathed or handed down.
3. A Trust needs to clearly show beneficiaries.

4. Those creating the Trust must have proper control of the subject matter of the trust.
5. A Trust must enumerate an intention for which it is created.
6. A Trust cannot be executed until it provides a statement of manifestation. (i.e.- That it intends to be actively established)

Even though we don't see the words "Family Trust" in the Constitution --- the makeup of it shows that was the lawful intent. This "lawful intent" is a fundamental maxim of Saxon Christian law.

"The Test is not what the instrument is called but what the person executing it designed to have it accomplish". (79 American Jurisprudence 2d Wills, Section 24)

Simply put – if it looks like a duck, acts like a duck, swims like a duck, quacks like a duck – it's a duck. Was the Preamble, the articles, and the Bill of rights of the Constitution designed to be a trust instrument? The answer is – yes, definitely so:

1. The Constitution declares an able Settlor, specifically listed as "We the people". The articles which follow the Preamble create the Trustees (officials) and list their duties.
2. Is there a determined Res? Yes. The "thing" (or Res) secured and being handed down is "The Blessings of Liberty". (Blessings come from God)
3. The beneficiaries of the Constitution are specific and are proclaimed to be "ourselves and our posterity".
4. Can it be determined that the Constitution's Framers had proper control of the subject matter over which they were presiding in the document? Without doubt. They had just won their war for independence and had possession of the land and other property within their jurisdiction.
5. The Founding Fathers were clear in their intentions as to why they were creating the Constitution. It was "In Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, Insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity".

6. Finally, we see a statement of manifestation to make it an active reality, "Do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America"

The fact of law and the preponderance of the evidence makes it clear that the original USA Constitution of 1787 was a racial family document in the form of a Trust and that the family was/is exclusively white Christian. The Founders looked to their heritage which was yet another obedient aim pertaining to Scripture. The Almighty has given us the answer to our woes, and that answer is found in recognizing our Adamic and Abrahamic divine inheritances. Below attests to this truth (my comments in blue):

Isaiah 51:

1 Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek Yahweh: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged. (If we are looking for solutions to our national problems we need to start by remembering who we are. We are descended from the dust of the ground in Eden from which God formed our father Adam. Our spiritual redemption is from the Rock – Christ.)

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him. (Not only do we realize our Adamic roots but we are the sons of Abraham and Sarah who bore Isaac. We are Isaac's sons – that is 'Saxons')

3 For Yahweh shall comfort Zion: He will comfort all her waste places; and He will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of Yahweh; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody. (The Bible records that prophetic Zion is the USA. It will be comforted like Eden, because long ago it WAS Eden. "Thanksgiving" here is literal and it is the American Thanksgiving to God. Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed as a heritage holiday by President George Washington on October 3rd 1789. October 3rd is the first day of the Feast of Tabernacles on the Israelite solar calendar used by Noah, Moses, and the patriarchs of our race.)

4 Hearken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people. (Yes, The Almighty has a nation, and it will be from that nation (USA rescued) that Yahweh Incarnate, Jesus the Christ, will save the rest of the Saxon nations around the globe. The Saxons from Abraham and Sarah are "the people" as HE says "MY people")

This CD answers the question “Is the Constitution Christian?”, in the affirmative. It is a recorded 2013 Talk Show interview with Kenneth Lent, Pastor Mark Downey, and William Finck. A suggested donation of $1 US cash would help with shipping and handling but is not necessary. Just ask for the CD, mention this article, and we’ll get it shipped to you free. (One only, but permission is granted to make copies for hand outs if you do not sell them, and do not upload them to other websites). The total time of the show was done in two 2 hour parts (4hrs. MP3 format), so there is plenty for the listeners to glean from having this CD as part of the family Christian home library.

May Yahweh Almighty bless the Christian Remnant!
